Market Review, Outlook & Strategy relevant to Target Fund

The US markets continued to scale higher in April on the back of stronger economic outlook for 2021 and Biden's proposed US$2 trillion infrastructure bill. Sentiment on equity markets also improved following the retreat of the 10-year treasury yield to 1.628% by end April compared to 1.742% by end March. US recorded strong 1Q21 GDP growth of 6.4% quarter-on-quarter, supported by economic reopening and robust fiscal stimulus, thanks to two rounds of stimulus checks ($600 in January and $1,400 in March). Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve kept rates unchanged and reiterated that it will maintain them until conditions have reached levels of maximum employment and inflation. Fed's Chairman Powell said inflation may continue to rise but is transitory in nature.

The KLCI and FBM Shariah Index gained 1.8% and 3.3% respectively in April. Meanwhile, the FBM Small Cap Index rose 2.7% in April. Foreign investors were net sellers of RM1.1 billion in April 2021, taking year-to-date net selling to RM2.8 billion. Prices of Brent crude oil and CPO rose 7.1% and 5.8% to RM3,868/ton and US$67.3/barrel respectively over the month. FTSE Russell removed Malaysia from the watch list for a potential downgrade and retained its membership in the World Government Bond Index.

In Malaysia, new Covid-19 cases began to increase in April after hitting a low of 941 cases on 29 March while new cases hit a high of 3,788 on 30 April. The Ministry of Finance had also announced that the government will use RM5 billion from the National Trust Fund for vaccine procurement and implementation of the national immunisation plan. Separately, the MRT Corp plans to call tenders for MRT3 circle line in August and will consider private funding for up to 30% of the project cost.

Accommodative monetary policies by global central banks and fiscal measures are supportive of global economic recovery which is positive for equity markets. Nonetheless, we expect near term markets to be volatile as global infection cases remain elevated. Seasonally, the month of May has always been a weak month for equity markets. Investors are also taking a wait-and-see approach while waiting for the first quarter corporate results to be released in May. We will be buyers on market weakness.

We maintain a barbell investment strategy, focusing on recovery/re-opening theme and structural growth theme. For recovery themes, we will focus on cyclical sectors such as consumer discretionary (retail and leisure), energy and materials. For structural growth theme, however, we favour sectors such as technology, electronics manufacturing services (EMS) and renewable energy.

Investment Risks

All investments carry risks. Policy Owners must be prepared to accept certain degree of risk associated with this investment. The following are the non-exhaustive list of risks associated to this fund.

1. Market Risk

Market risk stems from the fact that there are other economy-wide perils, which threaten all businesses. It is mainly caused by uncertainties in the economy, political and social environment.

2. Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the fund invested cannot be readily sold and converted into cash. This may arise when the trading volume is low and/or where there is a lack of demand for the security.

3. Credit Risk

This refers to the possibility that the issuer of a security will not be able to make timely payments of interest or principal repayment on the maturity date. The default may lead to a fall in the value of the funds.

4. Interest Rate Risk

The level of interest rates has an impact on the value of investments. Any increase in rates will lead to a fall in the value of securities, thus affecting the value of the funds.

5. Country Risk

The foreign investment of a fund may be affected by the political & economic conditions of the country which the investments are made.

6. Currency Risk

This risk is associated with investments that are denominated in foreign currencies. Fluctuation in foreign exchange rates will have an impact on the value of the funds.

7. Concentration Risk

Basis of Unit Valuation

1. The assets of every fund are to be valued to determine the value at which units of a particular fund can be liquidated or purchased for investment purposes.
2. The unit price of a unit of a fund shall be determined by the Company but in any event shall not be less than the value of fund of the relevant fund (as defined below), divided by the number of units of the given fund in issue on the business day before the valuation date, and the result adjusted to the nearest one hundredth of a cent.
3. The maximum value of any asset of any fund shall not exceed the following price:
 - a) The last transacted market price at which those assets could be purchased or sold on the business day before the valuation date; or
 - b) In the case of securities for which market values are not readily available, the price at which, in our Investment Manager's opinion, the asset may have been purchased on the business day before the valuation date; plus any expenses which would have been incurred in its acquisition.
4. To ensure fair treatment to all unit holders, the cost of acquiring and disposing of assets is recouped by making a transaction cost adjustment to the net asset value per unit.
