

HLA Secure Fund (HLASF)

January 2023

Fund Features

1. Investment Objective

To provide investors with steady and consistent return over a long-term investment horizon by investing into local and global fixed income securities and equities.

2. Investment Strategy & Approach

The strategy is to provide investors an affordable access into a diversified investment portfolio with a mixture of equities and fixed income instrument. The fund will invest primarily in fixed income instruments such as bonds, money market instruments, repo and deposits with financial institutions that provide regular income as well as in high dividend yield stocks to enhance the fund's returns. The asset allocation decision between fixed income instruments and equity is decided after considering the fixed income and equity market outlook over the medium to long-term horizon. Initially the fund will invest by feeding into Affin Hwang Select Income Fund ("Target Fund"), with the option to increase the number of funds or replace Affin Hwang Select Income Fund with other fund(s) in future. The Target Fund will invest primarily in Asia Pacific excluding Japan companies.

3. Asset Allocation

The fund shall invest a minimum 70% of the NAV in Fixed Income Instruments and maximum 30% of NAV in equities.

4. Target Market

The fund is suitable for investors who are relatively conservative and wish to have a steady and stable return that meets their retirement needs.

Market Review, Outlook & Strategy relevant to Target Fund

US equities stormed back with a vengeance at the start of 2023 following last year's dismal performance. The S&P 500 climbed 6.20% in January after a spate of 'Goldilocks' data showed US economic growth staying resilient and at the same time inflationary pressures easing. The tech-heavy Nasdaq gauge similarly soared 10.70%. This was supported by better-than-expected US 4Q'2022 GDP which fuelled optimism that the US would be able to pull off a soft landing. Core personal consumption expenditures (PCE) which is the Fed's preferred inflation gauge also came below consensus which could give the Fed more latitude to ease up on rate hikes. In Asia, the broader MSCI Asia ex-Japan climbed 8.20% lifted by tailwinds surrounding China's reopening. The MSCI China index closed up 12.30% in January as the country reopened its international borders for the first time after 3 years of COVID closures. With massive pent-up demand waiting to be unleashed, we could see a could strong uplift to growth as consumption returns. Other notable gainers in the region include Korea and Taiwan with the KOSPI index up 8.40% and Taiwan's weighted index vaulting by 8.00% respectively. A reversal in the US dollar strength has also propped-up emerging market as foreign fund flows return. On the domestic front, it was a more muted start for the local market with the benchmark KLCI barely unchanged at -0.60%. There was mild selling pressure seen across Bursa on the back of profit taking after the typical year end window-dressing activities. There was plenty of political intrigue as UMNO President Datuk Seri Zahid Hamidi maintained his grip on the party's reins and shored up his position. Any major change in the party's top leadership especially that of the president could have implications to the stability of the current unity government. All eyes will be on Budget 2023 which is expected to be re-tabled on the February 24th in Parliament. Expectations are that the country's budget would not be significantly different. However, we could see more fiscal measures to widen the country's revenue base as well as the implementation of targeted subsidies. On local fixed income, the 10-year MGS yield fell 24 bps to settle at 3.80%. In a surprise turn, Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) decided to maintain its Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) at 2.75%. According to BNM, this would allow the central bank to assess the impact of past OPR adjustments towards the economy. BNM has taken a stance that the current OPR remains well-adjusted for the country's economic growth in light of global recessionary headwinds. A lower inflation print could also have weighed on BNM's decision to leave the OPR unchanged. It was reported that Malaysia's inflation numbers saw a dip in December 2022 at 3.80% compared to 4.00% in November.

Investment Risks

All investments carry risks. Policy Owners must be prepared to accept certain degree of risk associated with this Investment. The following are the non-exhaustive list of risks associated to this fund.

1. Market Risk

Market risk stems from the fact that there are other economy-wide perils, which threaten all businesses. It is mainly caused by uncertainties in the economy, political and social environment.

2. Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the fund invested cannot be readily sold and converted into cash. This may arise when the trading volume is low and/or where there is a lack of demand for the security.

3. Country Risk

The foreign investment of a fund may be affected by the political & economic conditions of the country which the investments are made.

4. Currency Risk

This risk is associated with investments that are denominated in foreign currencies. Fluctuation in foreign exchange rates will have an impact on the value of the funds.

5. Concentration Risk

This risk is associated with a feeder fund whereby the investments of such fund are not diversified. A feeder fund invests mainly into another collective investment scheme.

Risk Management

The company has in place its Authorized Investment Framework which forms part of the Risk Management process. The authority framework covers the nature and scope of the investment authority that is exercisable by various parties in managing the Company's investments. The potential investment risks that are taken into consideration in managing the fund include economic conditions, liquidity, qualitative and quantitative aspects of the securities. The investment manager(s) have put in place the following controls to reduce the risks through:

- having a flexible tactical asset allocation
- investing in a wide range of companies across different sectors
- setting prudent investment limits on various exposures
- taking into account the liquidity factor in selecting securities
- engaging in the hedging of foreign currency exposure where appropriate

HLA Secure Fund (HLASF)

Basis of Unit Valuation

1. The assets of every fund are to be valued to determine the value at which units of a particular fund can be liquidated or purchased for investment purposes.
2. The unit price of a unit of a fund shall be determined by the Company but in any event shall not be less than the value of fund of the relevant fund (as defined below), divided by the number of units of the given fund in issue on the business day before the valuation date, and the result adjusted to the nearest one hundredth of a cent.
3. The maximum value of any asset of any fund shall not exceed the following price:
 - a) The last transacted market price at which those assets could be purchased or sold on the business day before the valuation date; or
 - b) In the case of securities for which market values are not readily available, the price at which, in our Investment Manager's opinion, the asset may have been purchased on the business day before the valuation date; plus any expenses which would have been incurred in its acquisition.
4. To ensure fair treatment to all unit holders, the cost of acquiring and disposing of assets is recouped by making a transaction cost adjustment to the net asset value per unit.

Exceptional Circumstances

The Company reserves the right to defer the payment of benefits (other than death benefit) under this Policy for a period not exceeding six (6) months from the date the payment would have been normally effected if not for intervening events such as temporary closure of any Stock Exchange in which the fund is invested which the Company, in its discretion, may consider exceptional.
