

HLA Secure Fund (HLASF)

Aug 2019

Fund Features

1. Investment Objective

To provide investors with steady and consistent return over a long-term investment horizon by investing into local and global fixed income securities and equities.

2. Investment Strategy & Approach

The strategy is to provide investors an affordable access into a diversified investment portfolio with a mixture of equities and fixed income instrument. The fund will invest primarily in fixed income instruments such as bonds, money market instruments, repo and deposits with financial institutions that provide regular income as well as in high dividend yield stocks to enhance the fund's returns. The asset allocation decision between fixed income instruments and equity is decided after considering the fixed income and equity market outlook over the medium to long-term horizon. Initially the fund will invest by feeding into Affin Hwang Select Income Fund ("Target Fund"), with the option to increase the number of funds or replace Affin Hwang Select Income Fund with other fund(s) in future.

3. Asset Allocation

The fund shall invest a minimum 70% of the NAV in Fixed Income Instruments and maximum 30% of NAV in equities.

4. Target Market

The fund is suitable for investors who are relatively conservative and wish to have a steady and stable return that meets their retirement needs.

Market Review, Outlook & Strategy relevant to Target Fund

Most markets globally were down in August as political developments and further escalation in the US-China trade tensions rattled investor sentiments. The US announced more tariffs on Chinese goods, which is then followed by retaliatory measures by China. Within fixed income, the Manager has remained the duration of the portfolio around 4.2 years. Our focus on prudent credit selection and healthy liquidity profile remains. The Manager has remained equity exposure to 23%. On equity portfolio positioning, the manager will continue to lock in profits for dividend distributions.

Asian markets retreated in August as trade tensions flared up again after a surprise tariff announcement from the US President. The Hong Kong Hang Seng index fell 7.4%, whilst the broader MSCI Asia ex-Japan index closed 4.6% lower as the prolonged trade row takes another turn for the worse. Businesses in Hong Kong reported slowing sales activities as protests by pro-democracy demonstrators threaten to spill over to affect the economy. China's Caixin Manufacturing PMI saw an unexpected rise to 50.4 in August, the highest reading since March and a recovery from the past 2 months decline. South Korea's exports continued to decline with a 13.6% year on year fall in August. This comes amid the US-China trade war and escalating tensions with Japan. Shipments to China, its largest trade partner, dropped 21.3%. The country's trade data is typically seen as a barometer of global demand. The Asian credit and high yield space were relatively softer given the volatile environment while investment grade names and treasury bonds generally held up well. Several Asian central banks eased monetary policies during the month, including rate cuts from the Indian, Thai, and Philippines central bank amid a challenging macro environment. Most Asian currencies weakened against the USD in August. This includes China, which allowed its Yuan to weaken beyond the key 7 per USD level prompting accusations of currency manipulation from the US. China's latest Total Social Financing – a broad measure of the nation's credit and liquidity – fell to 1.01 trillion Yuan in July 2019 from 2.26 trillion Yuan in the month before, while growth of money supply and new loans also saw a dip in the same month.

Net returns are adjusted for tax and fund management fees.

Those are the actual returns in the past six (6) years, or since inception if shorter, and are strictly the performance of the investment-linked fund. Thus, the returns are not earned on the actual premium paid of the investment-linked product.

The fund was only launched on 14 February 2013. The actual investment returns are calculated based on unit price from 14 February 2013 to 31 December 2013.

Investment Risks

All investments carry risks. Policy Owners must be prepared to accept certain degree of risk associated with this Investment. The following are the non-exhaustive list of risks associated to this fund.

1. Market Risk

Market risk stems from the fact that there are other economy-wide perils, which threaten all businesses. It is mainly caused by uncertainties in the economy, political and social environment.

2. Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the fund invested cannot be readily sold and converted into cash. This may arise when the trading volume is low and/or where there is a lack of demand for the security.

3. Country Risk

The foreign investment of a fund may be affected by the political & economic conditions of the country which the investments are made.

4. Currency Risk

This risk is associated with investments that are denominated in foreign currencies. Fluctuation in foreign exchange rates will have an impact on the value of the funds.

5. Concentration Risk

This risk is associated with a feeder fund whereby the investments of such fund are not diversified. A feeder fund invests mainly into another collective investment scheme.

Risk Management

The Company has in place its Authorized Investment Framework which forms part of the Risk Management process. The authority framework will cover the nature and scope of the investment authority that is exercisable by various parties in managing the Company's investments. Besides this, sensitivity and stress testing is conducted to inform the Company's management the profit & loss profiles of their investments under different pre-defined risk scenarios and the necessary action to be taken if the potential losses exceed the Company's risk tolerance level.

Basis of Unit Valuation

- The assets of every fund are to be valued to determine the value at which units of a particular fund can be liquidated or purchased for investment purposes.
- The unit price of a unit of a fund shall be determined by the Company but in any event shall not be less than the value of fund of the relevant fund (as defined below), divided by the number of units of the given fund in issue on the business day before the valuation date, and the result adjusted to the nearest one hundredth of a cent.
- The maximum value of any asset of any fund shall not exceed the following price:
 - The last transacted market price at which those assets could be purchased or sold on the business day before the valuation date; or
 - In the case of securities for which market values are not readily available, the price at which, in our Investment Manager's opinion, the asset may have been purchased on the business day before the valuation date; plus any expenses which would have been incurred in its acquisition.
- To ensure fair treatment to all unit holders, the cost of acquiring and disposing of assets is recouped by making a transaction cost adjustment to the net asset value per unit.

Exceptional Circumstances

The Company reserves the right to defer the payment of benefits (other than death benefit) under this Policy for a period not exceeding six (6) months from the date the payment would have been normally effected if not for intervening events such as temporary closure of any Stock Exchange in which the fund is invested which the Company, in its discretion, may consider exceptional.
